

Wildlife Education At Grouse Mountain

The Grouse Mountain Refuge for Endangered Wildlife offers leading edge educational programs that include science, social studies and recreational components. Students and teachers alike will have the unique opportunity to learn about British Columbia's indigenous species, interact with Wildlife Rangers and experience First Nations culture in a mountaintop location.

Curriculum specific activities for all grades!

Programs can be modified for individual class needs. Most programs can be adapted for alternate grade levels, special needs, ESL groups and are available in French.
